Balfour Declaration

BASIS OF PALESTINE MANDATE, LORDS ARE TOLD

Colonial Secretary, Replying to Lord Islington's Questions During Palestine Debate Says Mandate Is an International Obligation Which Britain Would Resign in Repudiating Promise to Zionists.

London (J.T.A.). Speaking in the House of Lords, Wednesday night the Duke of Devonshire gave an unequivocal reply to the critics of Britain's Palestine policy. He declared the Government had full intention of giving every support to the High Commissioner for Palestine, according to the instructions in the Mandate, since the Mandate was an international obligation and the Balfour Declaration, the basis on which it was accepted from the Allied Powers.

The debate which evoked this reply was postponed from Tuesday. Lord Islington, long an enemy of the Zionist aims, opened the debate, saying he hoped to receive a more favorable reply than three months ago.

The Arab and Christian population of Palestine will never assent to the "Zionist system of government," he said, however fair the election may be if it places them in a subordinate position. Lord Islington attributed the present "deadlock" to the distinct pledges of independence given to the Arab community and simultaneously the pledges to endeavor to establish a Zionist home.

Although the civil and religious rights of the Arabs and Christians are guaranteed, Lord Islington said every effort made by the Government to establish the Zionist system of government was irreconcilable with the promise to respect these rights.

Continuing, Lord Islington said, that ordinarily, and especially in foreign affairs, the Government should treat matters as far as possible, continously, but there are cases where experience showed that the continuity of a certain policy is against the public interests and imperial welfare. Sooner or later a friendly people could be driven to such hostility that only force of arms could maintain order, he warned.

"If a federation of Arab states is established and the Zionist system implanted in one of them, it is only a question of time when its influence would go over the borders.

In conclusion, Lord Islington asked that all documents pertaining to the Palestine question be laid on the table.

Lord Milner, who visited Palestine a year ago, declared if all the documents were published they would prove that the Government had not broken any of its pledges to the Arabs, that none of the alleged injustice to the Arab population had been perpetrated, and that the so-called burden of expenditure was rapidly falling and before long Palestine would cease to be a financial burden to Britain at all.

Lord Milner further said he hoped the Government would adhere to its present policy, as the progress made in Palestine was "really extraordinary." "If the Arabs claim Palestine as one of their countries, in the same sense as Mesopotamia and Arabia, they are flying in the face of facts and of history," he said in conclusion.

The official Government reply was given by the Duke of Devonshire, the Colonial Secretary. He said he had consulted his colleagues as to their opinion regarding the publication of the correspondence and the papers dealing with the engagements and commitments concerning Palestine, and they found it would be contrary to the public interests to grant Lord Islington's request.

Proceeding to the latest political developments in Palestine, the Duke asserted there was considerable misapprehension regarding the Palestine elections. Under the constitution promulgated last year, arrangements were made for the holding of the elections in accordance with a plan well-known to the population, and it was then hoped the Legislative Council would be elected. However, a large proportion of the inhabitants refused to participate. The Duke said he regretted this decision and thought the action "unwise and unfortunate."

Efforts have been made, however, to obtain an advisory body in lieu of the Legislative Council, but he regretted that through complete misconception of these efforts, pressure was brought to bear upon those who had originally agreed to serve and they were prevented from doing so.

"This makes the government of the country more difficult," he said. "But even if the Arabs are unwilling to participate in the constitution, it is our duty as the Mandatory to continue the government of the country. It is the Government's full intention to give every support to the High Commissioner in carrying on the government according to the instructions in the Mandate."

The Duke of Devonshire expressed the hope that later, when the prejudice surrounding this question would be dissolved, the people of Palestine would be ready to take an active part in the administration.

Passing to the Zionist pledges, the Duke of Devonshire made this statement:

"Occasionally people are heard to speak of the Balfour Declaration as though it were something we could take up or lay aside to suit our own convenience. The Mandate is not merely a national, but an international obligation, and the Balfour Declaration is the basis on which we accepted from the Allied Powers our position as the Mandatory for Palestine. We should be taking grave risks, not only with regard to Palestine, but the other powers, if we should resign that trust.

"As far as the Mandate is concerned, we hold it with the full approval of the Allies and the League of Nations. No doubt it would be possible for us to resign the Mandate, and then it would be for the League to decide what new arrangement is to take its place.

"Obviously," he continued, "we must have wide discretion in the interpretation of the obligations placed upon us. It was never intended that the present form of Government would be final and it was hoped that it would gradually be extended with the view of ultimately arriving at a responsible government in that part of the world."

Lord Grey urged the Colonial Secretary to take advantage of the presence of Sir Herbert Samuel in London and mark out some more definite plan whereby the Zionist policy, while yet preserving for the Jews the opportunity of founding their own university and of giving a home to the Jewish future inside a state mainly Arab, could be so interpreted as to bring it more in harmony with the civil rights of the people. Unless this is done, Lord Grey stated there would be serious trouble in the future.

The question was then dropped, no vote being taken.

SAYS SAMUEL SHOULD RESIGN

London (J.T.A.) — The Daily Mail today publishes a [illegible] upon Sir Herbert Samuel to resign his post in Palestine. Attacking the policy pursued by Great Britain in Palestine it says [illegible] King Hussein [illegible] with Britain because [illegible] recognize the National Home in Palestine.

Needed — an Understanding of Jewish Life in America

By DR. CYRUS ADLER

(Concluded from last week)

Now, I think that the people who are engaged in charitable work need to have added to their present understanding, the understanding that the institutions are in behalf of the beneficiaries and not of the managers, and that it is as much a wrong for an institution by reason of need of the beneficiary to use the opportunity to convert him or to wean him away from his particular brand of Judaism, as it is for Christian missionaries to seek out Jewish children and endeavor to bring them into the Church. I am inclined to think that if the matter could be presented in this way and a real understanding reached, we would not witness, for example, the condition which now exists in one of the most magnificent Jewish hospitals in America, not only of violating the Jewish law and good taste, but even of negativing the very noble purposes of the founder of that institution.

And then, too, there is something to be said with regard to the [illegible] themselves. It is very necessary and it has been [illegible] that our Jewish [illegible] should have trained workers and [illegible] present methods in charity work [illegible] doubtedly far surpass the methods hitherto employed. But there is, at least, no necessary divergence between charity and Judaism and we ought to reach an agreement among ourselves that the trained social workers who operate in Jewish institutions should have a knowledge of Judaism sufficient for it, and it would not be [illegible] if they [illegible] so that we can reach such an understanding we will do away with the danger of [illegible] and [illegible] which are to-day purely accidental, to what we [illegible] planned line of action.

And since I am speaking of [illegible] let me say that there is another matter connected with it to which we [illegible] be perfectly clear as to [illegible] and with each other. Since the influence [illegible] War and under the necessary [illegible] of our government, the [illegible] of passports of Jews that were to [illegible] and [illegible] to have been [illegible] greatly limited in order that they [illegible] interfere with the [illegible] of the sale of Liberty Bonds and [illegible] which people considered [illegible] purposes [illegible] information [illegible].

Jews Shrinking Physically in Ukraine

More Than 150,000 Victims of Pogroms, "Oze" Report Shows

London (J.T.A.)—Pogroms, famine and epidemics of every description have left not only a bloody trail of hundreds of thousands of Jewish victims in the Ukraine and Russia, but have affected survivors to such a degree as to cause a shrinking of their size. The physical frame of the Jew is changing as a result of the horrors he has gone through.

This was the statement made by Dr. Schwartzmann of the Jewish World Relief Conference at the inaugural meeting to-day of the "OZE," an organization for the improvement of health conditions among Jews of Russia.

Dr. Schwartzmann has just returned from an exhaustive tour of the Ukraine. Some of the facts disclosed by him were: The size of the average Jewish chest has become reduced. The mortality of the Jews has become twice as great as that of the non-Jews. More than 150,000 Jews have been killed in pogroms. These, Dr. Schwartzmann said, were the Red Cross figures. Tens of thousands of Jewish girls and women have been violated.

In one town of the Ukraine, half of the Jewish population of 30,000 within two years perished for want of food. Two hundred and fifty out of every thousand Jews in the city of Cherson died of hunger. In Ekaterinoslav, one hundred and fifty out of each thousand were stricken.

Thousands of victims of hunger dropped on the street, too weakened to cry or even to beg. Thirty-two per cent. of the Jewish dead, buried in the Odessa cemetery, are unidentified.

Nervous diseases have become multiplied to an extent impossible to calculate, and Jews are subject to all forms of hysteria. Numerous small towns and villages have virtually been wiped out as a result of the pogroms. Some of the towns were scenes of pogroms as many as fifteen times. Scarcely a village in the Ukraine escaped without at least one pogrom.

The mortality of the Jews of Odessa increased from eighteen per thousand during the period before the war to fifty-six per thousand in 1920.

Among those present at the meeting were the foremost leaders of the English Jewry. Messages urging the need of relief proposed by the "OZE" were received from Lord Robert Cecil who wrote that among all the horrors of recent years, none eclipsed the sufferings of the Ukrainian Jews.

"The OZE has my very best wishes in its highly laudable work," J. Ramsay Macdonald, the British labor leader, also wrote in praise of the organization.

Israel Zangwill, in a letter to the OZE declared that the time was coming when the international medical work would become a permanent feature of the League of Nations. Meanwhile, he declared, the Jews must play their part.

Mowatt Mitchell, an assistant director in Russia of the American Relief Administration wrote: "There is an appalling, almost unbelievable need for medical and sanitary work throughout eastern and south-eastern Europe, both inside and outside of Russia."

A message expressing the desire to cooperate in the work was also received from Nahum Sokolow, who is attending the meeting of the Zionist Actions Committee.

Sir Sidney Wells, Vice-Chancellor of the London University and also its representative in Parliament, declared the work was not only necessary for the suffering Jews themselves, but to prevent epidemics from these regions sweeping the rest of Europe. The famous pathologist, Sir Frederick Mott, in a letter to the OZE, declares that "your work should have the sympathy and support of all organizations." The French Jewish Committee for Starving Russia, headed by its President, Baron Alfred Ginsburg, Colonel Meyer and the Grand Rabbi of France also sent expressions of sympathy and support.

Dr. Radcliffe Salaman who was the medical officer of one of the Jewish battalions in Palestine during the war was elected president. Among the speakers were Dr. M. D. Eder, a well known psychiatrist, Rabbi Gaster, and Bernard Alexander, a member of the South African Parliament.

HERMAN BERNSTEIN APPOINTED EDITOR JEWISH TRIBUNE

New York (J.T.A.)—Herman Bernstein, prominent newspaperman and particularly well known for his achievements as foreign correspondent for the metropolitan press, has accepted the position of editor of the "Jewish Tribune."

In 1908 Bernstein toured Europe for the "New York Times." During the period of the Russian Revolution, Bernstein represented the "New York Herald" and a syndicate of other papers in Russia. In 1917 he was instrumental in obtaining possession of the letters commonly known as the Willy-Nicky correspondence—a mass of letters exchanged between the former Kaiser and the Czar of Russia.

He is the author of several books and has translated a number of Russian works. He was the founder and for a time the editor of the Yiddish daily "The Day."

WARBURG EXPLAINS LOAN TO HUNGARY AND AUSTRIA

Vienna (J.T.A.)—In an interview with the representative of the Jewish Telegraphic Agency to-day, Felix Warburg, who has come here to attend the Joint Distribution Committee conference, declared that the first news of the participation of Kuhn, Loeb and Company in the international loan for Hungary came to him after his departure from America.

Mr. Warburg said that he had since learned that the share of the Kuhn, Loeb and Company in the loan was principally in the Austrian phase. Conditions in Austria were much better, he said, and the further improvement of the situation by means of the loan would be reflected also in improvement of the situation of the Jews there.

Before leaving Austria, Mr. Warburg will confer with the President of Austria, Herr Hainisch.

ANOTHER RITUAL BLOOD ACCUSATION EXPLODED

Warsaw (J.T.A.)—A murder accusation which threw the entire Jewish population of the township of Nasielsk in turmoil was exploded to-day by the discovery of the alleged victim alive and sound.

A Jewish merchant of the town was accused of having murdered for ritual purposes the thirteen-year-old son of a peasant. The story spread among the peasants, and the menace of an attack by the peasants was averted only when the police found the boy unharmed.

CHARGE INTERFERENCE WITH JEWISH WORSHIP ON TRAINS

Warsaw (J.T.A.)—Charging that Jewish passengers traveling in railroad coaches in the early morning hours are not permitted to don the praying shawl and phylactery, the Jewish deputies in an interpellation submitted to-day urge revocation of the order, which they allege interferes with the freedom of worship.

WARSAW RABBIS PLAN MEATLESS DAYS

Warsaw (J.T.A.)—The continued advances in the price of meat have become so serious a matter that the Warsaw Rabbinate is considering steps to meet it. The rabbis intend to introduce two meatless days a week, by which device they hope to so reduce the demand for meat, as to cause a reduction in its price.

JEWISH FARM SCIENTIST HONORED BY RUTGERS COLLEGE

New Brunswick, N.J. (J.T.A.)—The degree of Doctor of Science was conferred upon Dr. Jacob G. Lipman, director of the New Jersey Experiment Station, by Rutgers College and the State University of New Jersey at the commencement exercises held to-day. Others who received honorary degrees were Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, Governor Silzer of New Jersey, and Edward Bok, former editor of the "Ladies' Home Journal."

Dr. Lipman is rated as perhaps the world's foremost authority on soils. He is the discoverer of the bacillus vinelandii, which is employed in the extraction of nitrogen from the air. He is also a discoverer of many other agricultural processes, one of which has been notably successful in combating potato diseases.

Dr. Lipman is a director of the Jewish Agricultural Society. He has also taken a keen interest in other phases of Jewish activities, and it is understood will visit the Palestine Jewish farm colonies this summer under the auspices of the Palestine Development Council.

JEWISH AGENCY TO BE "RESPONSIBLE"

Berlin (J.T.A.)—The movement for "democratizing" of the Jewish agency for Palestine won a victory Sunday, when a resolution was adopted by the Zionist Actions Committee providing that the Agency shall be responsible for its actions to a body representative of other Jewish organizations besides the Zionists.

The resolution provides also that the Zionists may now start negotiations with other Jewish bodies for their participation in the Jewish Agency. Nahum Sokolow in a speech before the Committee pledged himself to see to it that the "democratizing" principle was fully carried out.

This satisfied Deputy Grunbaum whose resolution Friday calling for a "responsible" agency to be constituted by a world Jewish congress was rejected by Mr. Sokolow on behalf of the Zionist Executive as showing lack of confidence in the leaders.

PERCENTAGE NORM TO BE CONTINUED IN ROUMANIAN UNIVERSITIES

Bucharest (J.T.A.)—Replying to a delegation of Jewish students, M. Angheleseu, Roumanian Minister of Education, to-day denied their plea for the removal of the limitations of Jewish students at the universities. He declared that for the present this could not be done.

He declared that the restriction regulations for the present would also apply to the formerly ceded Roumanian provinces of Bessarabia and Klausenburg.

THE CONVENTION OF THE CENTRAL CONFERENCE OF AMERICAN RABBIS

Three discussions stood out prominently in the thirty-fourth annual conclave of the Central Conference of American Rabbis, which met last week in Cape May, New Jersey. They were the discussions on social justice, Jewish education and Jewish music. These problems are not new and have received frequent treatment from the Liberal rabbis of America, yet never before have these subjects been so deeply and fundamentally considered as at this convention.

The reader of the paper on "Social Justice," as well as the discussion which followed, brought out clearly the point of view of the liberal rabbis toward social justice and religion, namely, that social justice is of the very essence of religion; that in religion social justice receives its sanction and through it social justice is nurtured and encouraged. This is fundamentally a re-emphasis of the dynamic message of prophetism. It was not singular that the representatives of Liberal Judaism, which stresses the prophetic ideals as no other movement in Jewish life, should have during these crucial and restless moments throughout the world, have found it necessary to restate the social justice creed of the Hebrew prophets as their creed. The point was stressed that though all the Christian denominations have also brought out social justice creeds, Judaism is more fortunately positioned than are the former. In the Christian religion of whatever creed, social justice programs are in reality only aspects of religion—the dominant motive still being that of personal salvation and going to heaven. In fact, the tendency of a certain faction in Protestant Christendom is entirely opposed to social service in any form on account of their belief that the work done thereby merely retards the second coming of their Messiah, whose condition of return for world salvation is dependent on the total corruption of mankind.

In respect to Judaism, theirs has always been a religion of social rather than personal salvation, of preparation for and happiness in this world, rather than of a blissful career in the other world. Judaism has given mankind not only the conception of one God and Father, but also its corollary of one united and universal brotherhood living in peace on the basis of justice and righteousness. Because of this condition so unique to Judaism, to Judaism alone it was re-emphasized that Judaism is not to be regarded as a religion, whose essential emphasis is in "pots and pans," on ceremonial and ritualism, excellent as these may be for the purposes of Jewish survival, but that ours is a religion best defined in the words of the prophet Micah: "What doth the Lord require of thee. To do justice, to love mercy and to walk humbly with thy God." Some there are among the rabbis who in their zeal are not content with having the Conference utter pronunciamentos on social justice. They would tie these pronunciamentos up with definite schemes and plans for social amelioration and rehabilitation. Others, and their opinion seems to prevail, are warned of the great danger involved in so doing. The Conference is a body of spiritual leaders, whose duty it is to guide the thought and speak the word which inspires and leads. To use a New Testament phrase, "In the beginning was the Word." Principles of religion and ethics are, relatively speaking, permanent when compared to the methods and schemes into which the principles may be cast for realization. The latter are the results of passing experimentation and changing condition. Ethical and religious principles stand in the face of superficial and temporary changes. In this workaday world, where the iron of materialism has entered into the very soul of our people in common with others, the leaders of American Judaism could do nothing better than to re-emphasize that Judaism is a religion which demands of its adherents not lip service or mere philanthropy but the just relationship of each to his fellow-man, of employer to employee, of the state to its citizens, of old to young, of man to woman, of race to race, etc., etc.

Jewish education has almost become a hackneyed subject. Everyone has talked about it and around it and talk it has remained. The school is the instrument devised by society for purposes of survival, through transmitting to the young the stored-up heritage which is the very existence and essence of its life. The Central Conference of American Rabbis listened to a well reasoned-out paper on "Jewish Education," by its newly appointed director in education, and concurred in the following resolution formulated by its Commission on Jewish Education:

> Resolved: That this Commission, in planning a detailed curriculum for the Jewish religious school of comprehensive scope, is unanimous in the conviction that a week-day session will have to be added to the present Sunday session in building up a system of religious education that shall be adequate to our needs. And this Commission urges upon the rabbinate and the congregations of this country that such an arrangement for additional instruction be adopted in all our religious schools."

The Sunday School, which is the instrument devised by liberal Judaism for the transmission of its religious and cultural values to the young, has proved itself to be hopelessly inadequate. It is impossible, with a once-a-week school system, to develop a specially trained teaching force, and, what is most important, a serious professional attitude of mind toward the problem of religious education for Liberal Judaism. If this large and influential group in Judaism is to live and its adherents are to be educated Jews, its must replace the Sunday School by a plan of schools such as is suggested in the above resolution. It is a significant sign of the times that the spirit of self-criticism has set in the ranks of liberal rabbis. It now remains for the laity in co-operation with the rabbis to take the matter of religious education of their young more seriously than they have in the past, and to put into practice the suggestion of the resolution.

It has been the popular belief of non-Jews and even of many Jews that there is no specific Jewish music. That the Jews merely adopted the music of their neighbors for their synagogal chants and folk music. As a result of the devoted and scholarly work of Dr. Idelson, covering a period of some twenty years, it is now a recognized fact that there is such a thing as Jewish music, whose characteristics are definite and unique, whose oldest chants still alive are traceable as far back as 2,000 years. Dr. Idelson's lecture before the Conference established this point beyond the shadow of a doubt. It went even further. It proved that a great portion of the Gregorian chants of the Catholic Church, from which the Jewish people are supposed to have taken many of the synagogal chants, are in reality borrowed from the synagog. Much of modern synagog music, however, whether of the Orthodox synagog or Reform temple, is not based on the old, simple, appealing and distinctive synagogal chants, but is borrowed from the music of our neighbors and even what passes for music. What Dr. Idelson appealed for was a Judaization of the music of the synagog. But it does seem pathetic and tragic that such should be the case. Nevertheless it is hopeful that the rabbis and cantors should be willing to say "chotosic." I have sinned in this regard. The Judaization of our synagogal music will add much to inducing a religious spirit in our services.

The Central Conference of American Rabbis is a body of signal importance in Jewish life as well as in general humanitarian affairs. In the closing words of the annual report of the presiding officer's message, we express "the very earnest prayers that the Conference may continue to grow in influence and strength, that its members all may be granted the blessings of an increasing power for noble work in the vineyard of our ancient faith and of the great peace and happiness of gathering in gladness the harvests of their sowing."

SAYS RUSSIANS DON'T FEEL LIKE RECONSTRUCTION

Geneva (J.T.A.).—"If you have been living on roots and herbs for nine months and then are given a very insufficient daily dole of food, it may be assumed that you will not feel like reconstruction work immediately," Mr. Kers Sund, of Norway, says in a report to the Nansen Relief Mission here. The effects of the Russian famine will not disappear altogether this year, no matter what the results of the harvest may be. The fight against rickets among the children has not even been begun, and should be begun at once.

"Many of those who have received rations from the Nansen Relief Mission are still very feeble and far from recovering their normal state. Our hospitals are full of patients suffering from dysentery, typhoid, malaria and other diseases. There are many people suffering from swollen hands and feet from having eaten grass. . . .

"The hospitals for children often lack the most necessary articles. There are almost no bed-clothes. I have seen sick children with only bare planks to lie on, and where there is anything to serve as a mattress, it is frequently merely bits of cloth sewn together covering bare planks.

"Cases of dystentry and typhus are placed side by side, for lack of room. There are neither glasses nor cups, and empty condensed milk cans serve as drinking glasses, while flour sacks are used for bedding."

HALLER SUCCEEDS PILSUDSKI; KORFANTY MAY BE WAR MINISTER

Warsaw (J.T.A.)—General Stanislaus Haller has been named chief of the Polish military staff, succeeding Marshall Joseph Pilsudski who resigned when M. Witos assumed the premiership.

General Haller who recruited the Polish volunteers in America is notoriously anti-Semitic. Such practices as the hurling of Jewish passengers from fast-moving trains and the cutting of Jews' beards were inaugurated by his recruits.

Korfanty, a Silesian leader, also an anti-Semite, is insistently mentioned as the likeliest candidate for the War Ministry.

BRITISH TREATY WITH HUSSEIN MADE PUBLIC

Jerusalem (J.T.A.). — The British Government undertakes to assist the Arabs of Mesopotamia, Transjordania and Arabia to attain their independence, in return for which King Hussein of Hedjaz accepts the "special position" of Great Britain in Mesopotamia, Transjordania and Palestine, obligating himself to aid Britain in the fulfillment of her commitments there. This is the essence of the treaty negotiated between Great Britain and King Hussein, of Hedjaz, father of King Faisal of Mesopotamia, and of Emir Abdullah of Transjordania. The treaty is officially published here to-day.

With regard to Palestine, paragraph two of the treaty declares England had obligated herself not to violate the "civil and religious rights" of the Arab population. There is no mention of independence for the inhabitants of the country where Great Britain has undertaken to aid in the erection of the Jewish National Home.

The treaty provides also that if part or all of these Arab governments desire to create an economic alliance or a political confederation, Great Britain is bound to assist in the achievement of these objects.

C. J. W. LEADER ATTENDS INTERNATIONAL SUFFRAGE MEET

New York (J.T.A.).—Mrs. Nathaniel E. Harris, of Bradford, Pa., Chairman of the Council's Committee on Foreign Relations, who served as one of the delegates to the Conference of American and European Jewish Women at Vienna, also participated in the Ninth Congress of the International Woman Suffrage Alliance, held in Rome, Italy.

Mrs. Harris represented the National Council of Women of the United States, of which organization she is the first vice-president.

Rome (J. T. A.)—The "overwhelming rights" of the Catholics to the holy places in Palestine were stressed by Pope Pius addressing the secret Consistorium on May 23, last, it is learned.

"It is hardly necessary to say that we will, as hitherto, defend the undeniable, obvious and overwhelming rights of Catholics to the holy places in Palestine," the Pontiff is reported to have said.

"Sometimes when people censure me,
I tell them without rancour
That for what it cost me to be free
I might have had an anchor."

By the death of Rabbi Joseph Krauskopf, head of the Reform congregation of Temple Keneseth Israel, Philadelphia, founder of the National Farm School and of the Jewish Publication Society, and for thirty-five years one of the indisputable leaders of Reform Judaism and modernism in America, there is disclosed to the public a most interesting human document in his last will and testament. Because he may be regarded along with Dr. Gotthard Deutsch as a crusader after death for simplicity and lack of pomp at funeral services, and because his will contains so much in the way of common sense, we wish to quote extracts from it. If he had left nothing else in the way of inspiration to the Jews of his time, this will would bespeak his value:

"When in 1876 I decided to enter the Hebrew Union College of Cincinnati, to study for the Jewish ministry, I knew that I had chosen a life-calling which, even if successful, would yield little more than a respectable living. Experience has proved that I had judged aright. Beyond my home, my library and household effects, and the few thousand dollars invested, which sum represents, for the most part, matured endowments from life insurance policies, I own nothing.

"I, therefore, have no worldly goods to bequeath to you, my dear children. And I would not have wanted it otherwise. I believe I have done my full duty toward you in having afforded you a good education, and in having set before you the example of a life consecrated to labor and earnest striving after the higher ideals. Even if Providence had chosen to bestow a fortune upon me, I would have regarded myself as having been entrusted with it solely as custodian for the benefit of others, rather than as a personal possession to be used by me and by my family.

"All moneys and investments remaining after the death of my wife I desire turned over to the Board of Directors of The National Farm School, to be set aside by them as a special fund to be known as 'The Flower and Fruit Fund,' the interest of which is to be devoted to the distribution of flowers and fruits to the needy sick, irrespective of race, creed and color.

"While recognizing that the right to deal with my remains belong to the chief mourners, I nevertheless hope that their views may coincide with those I hold, namely, that no display be connected with the obsequies, that the coffin remain closed, that there be no floral tributes, no eulogy, no crepe or other signs of mourning in the Temple during the funeral or after.

"It may not be regarded as the least of my work if I shall have inspired my family to set themselves against the mourning practices now in vogue. Men do not mourn nor deck themselves with trappings of sorrow, or shut out the light of their homes and lives, when one of their dear ones is promoted from a lower to a higher station. Such promotion, to my mind, comes to the soul at the moment of death, if it have lived worthily.

"Let my obsequies, therefore, be free from any sign of sorrow Let the last rites consist of a regular service, and no more. Upon its conclusion, and upon the withdrawal of my family and congregation, let a small committee of personal friends and co-laborers accompany my remains to the crematory and attend their incineration, and later take charge of the burial of the ashes in my family lot.

"These instructions are not to be regarded as obligatory upon my family. The rights of the living are to be respected more than those of the dead. If these wishes of mine are contrary to their feelings, let theirs prevail."

Jewish Refugee Expulsion Reported Stopped

Problem of Refugees Numbering 200,000 in 1921 Nearing Solution, Joint Foreign Committee Informs "ICA" in Report Covering League of Nations' Action.

London (J.T.A.)—Treatment of 150,000 Ukrainian refugees, mostly Jews, in Poland and about 45,000 in Bessarabia, is described in a report just submitted by Lucien Wolf on behalf of the Jewish Joint Foreign Committee to the Jewish Colonization Association.

The report, the advance proof of which the Jewish Telegraphic Agency obtained today, contains Mr. Wolf's account of the proceedings of the fourth meeting of the League of Nations' advisory committee to the High Commissioner for Russian Refugees, which was held in Geneva on April 20, and was devoted to the exclusive consideration of the Jewish refugees' problem.

After recalling the plight of the refugees evicted, expelled from Poland and refused admission to Soviet Ukraine, and of the refugees from Bessarabia for many of whom drowning in the river Dniester appeared as the only solution, the Joint Foreign Committee asserts there are no serious causes for complaint with regard to Roumania now.

While the Polish authorities have failed to act on certain modifications of the expulsion decree which had been promised, mass expulsion across the Russian frontier has no longer to be feared at present.

Another feature of the report is that the number of refugees in Poland has been reduced from 150,000 in September, 1921, to a figure of 10,000 early in 1923. With regard to Roumania, where in March, 1922, the number of refugees was estimated to be 45,000, only 11,000 are reported to be there now.

and exposure in the neutral zone, after they had been robbed of all their possessions by officials entrusted with the expulsion.

Equally harrowing stories were brought from the Roumanian frontier where there had been cases of refugees who were unable to remain in Bessarabia and were refused admission to the Ukraine and were left to drown in the Dniester.

Jewish societies, the report continues, could see no justification on public grounds for this drastic action. In May, 1921, M. Perlovsky, the Polish delegate to the International Conference convened by the League of Nations, gave categoric assurances that no refugee would be forcibly repatriated. Furthermore, Perlovski wrote on May 25, 1921, to the Secretary-General of the League that the return of Russian refugees of all categories must be voluntary, none to be obliged directly or indirectly to return to their own country against their will.

On September 14, he wrote again: "My government only deals with cases of voluntary repatriation and regards all refugees refusing to return to their country as political refugees enjoying the right of asylum."

The report states further that in March, 1922, the Bucharest agent of the League of Nations estimated the number of Jewish refugees in Bessarabia to be 45,000. In the beginning of 1923, however, despite the arrival of many fresh refugees the number was placed at 11,000.

In September, 1921, M. Perlovski, then Polish delegate to the League, estimated the number of refugees in Poland to be 150,000, of whom 86,421 had received passports to proceed overseas. Although large numbers continued to enter Poland, the total remaining in September, 1922, was only 20,000. Early in 1923, only 10,000 remained.

Mr. Wolf further recalls that in January, Premier Braziano of Roumania had stated there were to be no expulsions. Owing to the momentary divergence between the Cabinet and the military administration of Bessarabia, the expulsions were continued until February. There have been no serious causes for complaint since then.

The Joint Foreign Committee in its report records its gratitude to the Roumanian government, while recording also that the Polish authorities had not acted on "notable modifications of the expulsion decree" which had been made following the representations by Dr. Nansen.

Mr. Wolf voices the conviction that mass expulsion across the Russian frontier need no longer be feared and that the Polish government will provide reasonable facilities for evacuation.

The report covers also representations made with reference to the numerus clausus agitation in Vienna. It declares the agitation to be part of a wide-reaching anti-Semitic movement which had spread from Hungary all over Central and Eastern Europe.

The agitation was aimed at the virtual exclusion of Jews from all universities.

as merchandise is a misnomer. Can a printed label be compared with an axe, for instance? The label carries a parcel across the continent or around the world, telling each handler from whence to where. The axe is useful too, but only to the immediate user. Printing is direction, information and intelligence. Its appeal is to the educated mind. And do not forget that every educated mind is derived from what printing has taught it.

FAIL TO LOCATE FANTASTIC LIBEL STORY

Kovno (J.T.A.)—Attempts to run to the ground the fantastic rumors originating "somewhere in Lithuania" about an anti-Jewish libel have met with no success. For several days there have been reports that a Christian servant girl employed by a Jewish baker supplying bread to the army had poured poison into the dough. The baker, as the story runs, became suspicious and tried the bread on a dog. The dog died. The servant was arrested.

The occurrence is variously reported as having happened at Kasherlar and Alite. The Jewish Telegraphic Agency got into communication with the latter place, only to be informed that the thing happened at Kasherlar.

Upon inquiring at Kasherlar, the questioner was told it happened here in Kovno, where nothing is known of the story.

Annual Meeting of the Ezrah Chapter of Hadassah

The Ezrah Chapter of Hadassah held their final meeting of the season at the Shaarey Zedek Synagog, Monday, June 18, at which the election of officers took place for the ensuing year. The president, Mrs. M. Rady, occupied the chair. The annual report of the following committees were read: President, recording secretary, corresponding secretary, secretary-treasurer, house committee, membership, propaganda, National Fund boxes, entertainment and social. It was decided to commemorate Herzl Day by buying 20 trees in the Herzl Forest in Palestine under the name of the Ezrah Chapter of Hadassah. Following is the list of officers elected for the ensuing year:

President, Mrs. Max Rady; vice-presidents, Mrs. Lyons, Mrs. Abremovitch; recording secretary, Mrs. Copplemman; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Gottlieb; treasurer, Mrs. Arnovitch; librarian, Mrs. Shallet. Board of directors: Mrs. H. J. Samuel, Mrs. C. Portigal, Mrs. D. Singer, Mrs. J. Stein, Mrs. C. Rosenblat, Mrs. J. Sternberg, Mrs. Tartar, Mrs. D. Aronovitch, Mrs. S. Rodin, Mrs. B. Levinson, Mrs. C. Schiller, Miss Irene Brownstone, Mrs. Matoff, Mrs. J. Weidman, Mrs. N. L. Green, Mrs. N. J. Weidman, Mrs. D. Rosen, Mrs. A. Shinbane, Mrs. I. Diner, Mrs. R. Goldstein, Mrs. R. Frankfurter.

The following is briefly Mrs. Max Rady's report for Ezrah Chapter, first year:

Ezrah Chapter was organized because it was felt that the city possessed a large field for the work. The membership now consists of 140. The need for propaganda as the first step in the activities was decided, and to further the aspirations of Zionism and awaken the national consciousness in the ladies, a series of teas where the topics of conversation were Hadassah and Hadassah work, was given. The aim of the chapter has been, from its inception, to fittingly celebrate all Jewish holidays, and in February, a social was given at the Shaarey Zedek Synagog to commemorate Chamisho Osor Beshvat.

The following entertainments were given to raise funds for the Chaluzim. March 1: A Purim cooking sale at the Synagog, at which the Dominion president, Mrs. A. J. Freiman, was present. The sum of $100 was realized. March 19: linen shower in aid of the Eretz Isroel Mark, combined with monthly meeting at the Shaarey Tzedek Synagog. Thirty-seven dollars and a number of parcels were received. April 5: Passover silver tea, $60. April 16: bridge in connection with Eretz Isroel Mark was held at the Talmud Torah under the auspices of the chapter. To the Winnipeg Chapter, $54 was contributed for the tables sold June 10 concert: $400 realized on programs only; the full amount raised is not yet known.

On March 5, sewing was distributed among the ladies, which resulted in a number of babies' layettes being sent to Montreal on May 28, to be re-shipped to Palestine.

Seventy-five to eighty national fund boxes have been distributed and $50 was obtained from about thirty boxes. Owing to the fact that one dollar must be sent as shekel money to the Zionist organization, and 70 cents to Hadassah headquarters, the membership fee for the coming year, will be raised from one to two dollars. The plans for the coming year is to lend assistance to make possible the building of an agricultural school at the earliest date.

Shaarey Zedek Sisterhood Final Lecture

The last lecture of the series on social service work, which have been held under the auspices of the Shaarey Zedek Sisterhood, and delivered by Mr. G. B. Clark, took place last week. At the close of the talk, the president, Mrs. Max Heppner, expressed appreciation on behalf of those who had been attending, for the very enjoyable lectures given by Mr. Clark, and a leather portfolio was presented to him on behalf of those in attendance by Miss Eva Gershfield, at whose suggestion the series of lectures was originally started.

Women's Auxiliary of Orphanage

The Women's Auxiliary of the Jewish Orphanage held a most successful bridge at the Home, Matheson Avenue, Wednesday afternoon, June 20, which helped considerably to swell the funds of the organization. Twenty tables played and the following were the prize winners: Mrs. Astroff, Mrs. L. Rosenthal, Mrs. Finesilver and Mrs. D. Rosen. Following cards, refreshments were served. The committee of ladies whose combined efforts helped to make this affair such a success were: Mrs. L. Chechik, Mrs. J. M. Isaacs, Mrs. N. L. Green, Mrs. Hyman Kay and Mrs. D. Singer.

Winnipeg Chapter of Hadassah

A successful silver tea in the form of an "at home" was held at the home of Mrs. H. E. Wilder, Mountain Avenue, under the auspices of the Winnipeg Chapter of Hadassah, Wednesday afternoon, June 20. The rooms were beautifully decorated with the blue and white national colors and the pretty tea table, centred with a silver basket of peonies, was presided over by Mrs. L. Davis and Mrs. L. Coleman. Assisting in the tea room were: Mrs. Stockhammer, Mrs. Chercov, Mrs. Stambler, Mrs. Lyone, Mrs. Belkin, Mrs. Schlass and Miss Ackman.

Sewing which had previously been distributed among some of the members to be done, was handed in and a letter of thanks acknowledging two cheques of $20.00 each which was sent to the chapter in aid of the Chaluzim and the orphans in Palestine, was sent to the secretary of the Hebrew Ladies' Benevolent Society in Swift Current, Sask. This money was the proceeds of the raffling of a hand bag which was donated by Mrs. B. Levine, of the above-mentioned city. The drawing for the winner took place at a social and card party held recently at the home of Mrs. H. Wodlinger.

Hebrew Ladies' Bridge Club

The Hebrew Ladies' Bridge Club brought another successful season to a close at the home of Mrs. H. A. Isaacs, Balmoral Street, Wednesday afternoon, June 20. A satisfactory report was read by the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. L. Churchill. A Committee has been appointed to investigate the ward, consisting of five beds at the Children's Hospital, which this group of ladies have kept furnished ever since the formation of the club, 20 years ago, with the intention of refurnishing it and supplying whatever may be necessary. Each year a sum of money is allotted for this purpose. At intervals a number of ladies go to visit the patients and keep in touch with the needs of their ward. This organization was formed under the name of The Hebrew Ladies' Whist Club, and within the last few years has been changed to The Hebrew Ladies' Bridge Club. The present members are the following: Mesdames M. H. Abremovitch, A. Brownstone, J. Cohen, L. Churchill, H. J. Cohn, J. Finkleman, E. Frankfurter, M. Finklestein, H. A. Isaacs, C. Lyons, S. H. Narovlansky, C. Portigal, R. S. Robinson, I. J. Stein, L. Tritt and J. Udow.

Talmud Torah Notes

The Talmud Torah picnic to which the Winnipeg Jewish public have been looking forward to ever since it was announced, was staged Sunday, June 17, at Kenora Park, and proved a huge success.

There were over 800 people present. Particular mention must be made of the performance staged by the Hebrew Boy Scouts. Their military discipline and signal work was especially commented upon. The races and sports were in charge of Mr. W. Tobias, and were enjoyed by both the participants and the onlookers. The prize list and winners are as follows:

(1) Boys, 5 years and under: 1st, Jack Kale. 2nd, Adilman.

(2) Girls, 5 years and under: 1st, M. Steinkopf. 2nd, Frances Davis.

(3) Boys 8-11 years. 1st, J. Chertkow. 2nd, P. Gorman.

(4) Girls, 8-11 years. 1st, Ruth Goldin. 2nd, Edith Oberman.

(5) Boys, 12-15 years. 1st, Ben Kleiman. 2nd, Oscar Blank.

(6) Girls, 12-15 years. 1st, Mary Spivac. 2nd, E. Oberman.

(7) Boys, 15-17 years. 1st, Peter Feldman. 2nd, Joe Froomkin.

(8) Girls, 15-17 years. 1st, Fanny Goldin. 2nd, Mary Spivac.

(9) Men's. 1st, Goller. 2nd, Simon.

(10) 1st, Bella Baker. 2nd, H. Steinkopf.

(11) Fat men's race. 1st, John Weidman. 2nd, Doug. Rosen.

(12) Wheel-barrow race. 1st, Steinkopf. 2nd, Covelson.

The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Talmud Torah had a booth on the grounds at which were served various refreshments, and which was exceptionally well patronized. Future events of a like nature would no doubt be appreciated by the Winnipeg Jewish public, as it gives a day of outing to the parks in automobiles to many who would not otherwise be able to participate.

Her only attendant was her sister who acted as matron of honor, wearing a dove grey georgette crepe gown, having centre crystal pleated, panels and side panels inset with russet shade and silver embroidery, the coloring being carried out with a silver girdle with motifs of blue and russet design. Hadassah Reviews Her Work

What Hadassah in Toronto has done and what it intends to do were outlined at a meeting held prior to the official adjournment for the summer of Hadassah Council to mark the second term ending of that body.

As to finances Mrs. S. Kronick's report showed that the sum of $6,558 was realized at the Hadassah Yarid and that the entire sum which the organization brought in during the year was nearly $7,000.

Mrs. L. M. Schwartz, speaking of the sewing branch of Hadassah, enumerated various articles for Palestine received from the Junior Welfare Girls and Deborah, Central and Western Chapters. Such similar articles as soap, powder and cloths were received from Woolworth, Judith Chapter and Mrs. Rycus. Bradshaw's and Co. and Gelber Bros., gave flannel, and other articles came from Mrs. Elias and Mrs. Smith, Gerrard Street. Cut articles were distributed to Miriam, Deborah, Western, Naomi Chapters and Junior Hadassahs.

The longest report was that of Mrs. J. Selick, secretary of the Hadassah Council. She spoke of the mass meeting and luncheon given for Miss Alice Seligsberg, United States national chairman of Hadassah; the highly successful Yarid with Mrs. M. L. Willinsky, convenor; the Chomas B'Shevat with Mrs. B. R. Brickner as guest; the dance at the Zionist Institute for funds to redecorate the building; the Keren Hayesod campaign and the meeting during it in honor of Dr. Alexander Goldstein and Col. Patterson which netted $1,200; the house-to-house canvass headed by Mrs. A. I. Willinsky which brought in $4,000; the Herzl-Hadassah Revue and the assembly of all chapters during Shevuoth in honor of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Willinsky and Mr. and Mrs. M. Gelber. Mrs. Selick also praised the propaganda committee of Mrs. I. H. Seigal, assisted by Mrs. Wolfson and Mrs. Bennett, which issued a bulletin. New chapters formed were Miriam, Junior and Judith. Next year will see Palestinian girls trained in the housewifely arts through the help of Hadassah and the Zionist Sunday school in Toronto will receive special attention for the strengthening of Zionist forces amoung the young children.

Mrs. D. Dunkelman, Chairman of the Hadassah Council, presided and thanked those who so ably assisted Hadassah.

Community Camp Records Speak for Boys

CASE A

This is a case of a large family, nine children ranging from three to eighteen years of age. On account of poor home and dirty surroundings, boys are weak and unhealthy, undernourished. Two boys just returned from home, three are going to camp.

CASE B

A family of six children from six months to eleven years. Mother deaf and dumb. Father out of town looking for work. Mother going to rest home, with younger children. Very poor environment, boy underfed and undernourished, is going for all summer; boy too sick to work.

CASE C

This case is a very bad one. Family of eight children ranging from nine months to ten years. House was condemned by Board of Health. Out of eight children four boys are going to camp for all summer. Very poor and dirty home and surroundings. Father not working. Federation is re-establishing home.

CASE D

Here is a case of two boys of family going. Father not working. Both boys are delinquent. Will be out all summer. Parents have no control over these boys and the camp is a sure blessing to keep them out of mischief and give them the required discipline and supervision. They will also have the recreation previous to beginning life-work after the holiday.

CHARGES JEWISH AND RUSSIAN REFUGEES EXECUTED IN BESSARABIA

Bucharest (J.T.A.)—Numerous innocent civilians, chiefly Russian and Jewish refugees, have been shot dead by Roumanian soldiers in Bessarabia, Deputy Lupo, Peasant Party leader, charged in Parliament yesterday. The Deputy made revelations of a very grave nature concerning what he alleged to be the "military terror" reigning in Bessarabia. He drew so vivid a picture of the suffering of aliens in that territory that some of the members were moved to tears.

It is understood King Ferdinand has telegraphed to General Popovici, at Kishineff, military commander of Bessarabia, to come to Bucharest immediately to explain. A statement by the Government is expected in Parliament at an early date.

JEWISH UNIVERSITY PLANNED FOR KISHINEFF.

Bucharest (J.T.A.)—The erection of a Jewish University in Kishineff is proposed by the "Alliance Israelite," according to reports to Jewish newspapers here. The reports add that leading Roumanian Jews in America are interested in the project and are preparing to aid it financially.

Officials of the Alliance Israelite are understood to be seeking the consent of the Roumanian Government, and Roumanian diplomats in foreign countries are said to be in favor of the plan.

SAMUEL IN LONDON, DECLINES STATEMENT

Sees Colonial Secretary

London (J.T.A.).—Sir Herbert Samuel, British High Commissioner for Palestine, arrived in London last night. He refused to make any statement, successfully evading the questions fired at him at the station.

There is reason to believe the subject of discussion between the High Commissioner and the Secretary was the situation that has arisen in Palestine in consequence of the resignation of the Arab members of the Advisory Council.

Holy Blossom Religious Schools Closing

The closing exercises of the Religious Schools of the Holy Blossom Congregation took place on Sunday afternoon, June 24, at the synagogue.

Despite the sweltering heat a large number of the parents attended the ceremony, which was made up chiefly of the presentation of medals and prizes. Nine classes were represented, three of which belonged to the High School division. Six members of each of these classes received suitable awards for general proficiency and for regular attendance throughout the year.

Mr. E. F. Singer, the Superintendant of the School, addressed the children, and on the completion of his talk with the assistance of Mrs. Singer presented the prizes.

The presentation of the prizes completed, Rabbi Brickner addressed the school, reviewing the progress that had been made in the past year. The Rabbi thanked Mr. E. F. Singer, the Superintendent, for the untiring efforts that the latter had put forth. For years Mr. Singer had volunteered time and energy and was responsible in a good measure for the school's success. Rabbi Brickner also thanked the teachers for their work.

Counseling the children on how to profitably pass their vacation, the Rabbi suggested three pursuits, "Read at least one good book, take a long walk every day, and make at least one real friend." These were the three goals which every child must make an effort to reach. The vacation time was made for doing that which one had failed to do, either from lack of time or energy during the year.

The Rabbi touched briefly on the work that the School had accomplished during the year and especially the progress made by the High School division. An attempt would be made next year to study post-graduate work, and a training class for teachers would be formed.

In conclusion the Rabbi dedicated a Union Jack to the 69th Troop of Girl Guides.

The school throughout the exercises rendered various choral selections. A touch of color was lent to the proceedings by the presence of all the Jewish Girl Guides and Boy scouts in the city. All of these came attired in their uniforms and they formed a large part of the audience.

The following guests from the Girl Guide movement were present at the dedication of the flag presented to the 69th Girl Guides: Mrs. H. D. Warren, chief commissioner of Canada Girl Guides; Mrs. Marlowe, past divisional commissioner; Mrs. T. L. Rice, commissioner of central division of 69th Girl Guide Co.; Mrs. J. F. MacGregor, commissioner of Beach and Miss R. Reitert, secretary of Dominion of Canada.

"Y" BRANCH

The "Y" Branch of the Religious School of Holy Blossom held its closing exercises on Sunday afternoon, June 24, in the auditorium of the Y.M.H.A., Brunswick and College.

The prizes were presented to the successful students of the various classes. Awards were made for proficiency and attendance. This was the first year that the branch had been held at the "Y" and the large attendance of pupils and parents testified to the enthusiasm that was being taken in the enterprise and the success that had already been achieved in the short period of one year.

Rabbi Brickner delivered an address to the children in which he discussed the duties and obligations of children entering upon the vacation period. To the superintendent, Mr. Edmund Scheuer a great deal of credit for the success of the school was due. Mr. Scheuer presented the prizes and spoke briefly to the children.

GIRL GUIDES

The 69th Toronto Company of Girl Guides, under the captaincy of Lilian C. Smith, left for camp at Clarkson, Ont., where they are berry-picking. The girls are carrying on guide work and studying for various badges. Some are busy at bridge-work, others studying nature-lore, whilst others are going into dancing and singing, and making a study of old English country dances. The guides are practising now for next year's contest.

ITALIAN LAWYER EMBRACES JUDAISM

New York (J.T.A.)—Abraham ben Abraham was the Jewish name given to Lewis Aldino, an Italian, who has been admitted to the Jewish faith. The operation took place at the East New York and Brownsville Hospital. In applying for admittance to the Jewish faith, Mr. Aldino, who is a lawyer, said he was engaged to marry a Jewish girl whose parents insisted on his becoming a Jew. He stated also that he had been raised among Jews from childhood and felt akin to the Jewish people and religion.

SAY GREAT RELIEF ORGANIZATIONS INTEREFERE WITH ORT

Danzig (J.T.A.)—After hearing reports from representatives of Ort associations in Poland, Lithuania, Roumania, Bessarabia, England, France, Latvia and Germany, the Ort Conference, which opened here Sunday, decided to launch more intensive campaigns in the various countries.

Dr. Ch. Zhitlowski and M. Bashein, representing the American association, informed the Conference of the plans under way in America for a campaign in the Fall. The American delegates declared it was absolutely necessary in order to raise funds for the Ort, "to remove the obstacles placed by the great old relief organizations."

The Conference was opened by Leo Bramson. Vladimir Tiomkin presided over the second session.

U.S. MINISTER TALKS TO DANISH JEWS ON JUDAH P. BENJAMIN

Philadelphia (J.T.A.)—Dr. John Dyneley Prince, American Minister to Denmark, delivered a lecture in Copenhagen before the Jewish Literary Society on the life and public services of Judah P. Benjamin, according to information received by Dr. Cyrus Adler, President of Dropsie College here. There were about 200 persons present, including Dr. Simonsen, whose jubilee had been recently celebrated. Dr. Simonsen later presented to Professor Prince a copy of the Festkrift issued on that occasion.

Professor Prince was for many years a member of the Columbia University Faculty and has written important works in the field of oriental and philological science.

Boston (J.T.A.)—A temporary central committee of the Palestine Development Council with S. H. Waldstein of Boston as Chairman, and Adolph Hubbard as secretary, was organized following the Council's meeting here at the Ulysseum Club, Boston, on June 24. Justice Louis D. Brandeis delivered an address, and Robert Szold and Jacob de Haas also spoke. Those present included Rabbis Levi and Abrams of Boston, Rabbie Shohet of Providence, Rabbi Jurman of Waterbury, Judge D. FEISUL AND ABDULLAH, SONS OF HUSSEIN, KEEN RIVALS

Cairo (J.T.A.)—The old spirit of rivalry between King Feisul and his elder brother Abdullah is manifesting itself again, according to a writer in "Sayasa," an Egyptian paper, who declares that the two brothers had not met since their separation during the war. Abdullah is angry because Feisul had secured the throne of Irak.

Hussein, the father, hates Feisul, and if it had been in his power he would never have agreed to Feisul's kingship over Mesopotamia, the writer states.

As to Feisul, this paper declares he would a thousand times prefer the "British yoke" to being at the mercy of his elder brother and father.

WITOS PARTY MEN APPROVE "NUMERUS"

Warsaw (J.T.A.)—Peasant Party deputies joined with the Christian Nationalists and other reactionary members of the Education Commission in approving proposed measures for the limitation or total exclusion of Jewish students in the higher seats of learning.

The Peasant Party, which is led by Prime Minister Witos, is thus definitely aligned with the extreme conservative parliamentary wing, insofar at least as Jewish questions are concerned.

NO CHANGE IN ZION POLICY, SAMUEL TO RETURN TO JERUSALEM, OFFICIAL

London (J.T.A.)—Apparently by way of silencing the various rumors in connection with Sir. Herbert Samuel's visit to London, a statement has been issued from an official quarter that no change in the Palestine policy is contemplated and that the High Commissioner will return to his post.

An opportunity will be taken to consult Sir Herbert on conditions in Palestine and on matters affecting the Government policy, but there is no intention of any alteration in the Palestine policy, the statement declares. Sir Herbert Samuel is expected to return to Jerusalem after his leave of absence, the statement concludes.

The "Evening Standard" says Sir Herbert will press the government for a full recognition of the Zionist policy in Palestine, putting forward his resignation as an alternative. This paper asserts, however, that although he is an excellent administrator and a devoted public servant, it is unwise to try and force Premier Baldwin to continue a policy which experience proved to be "impossible."

BRITAIN SOUGHT TO STOP DENIKIN'S EXCESSES

London (J.T.A.)—The British Government, while it supplied the White Russian leader and pogromist, Denikin, with ammunition, did not countenance his attitude towards the Jews and sought to prevent his excesses against them. Assistant Secretary of Foreign Affairs, McNeil, made this statement to-day in answer to a query by Noel Buxton, member of Parliament, as to whether any protests had been lodged against Denikin's Jew-baiting.

The British representatives were instructed to exert all their efforts in behalf of the Jews there and the High Commissioner Sir H. MacKinder upon his departure for Russia at the time was given specific instructions to investigate and report all excesses, McNeil said.

APOSTATE WHO RENEGES MAY LEAVE CHRISTIAN WIFE, COURT IN INDIA RULES.

Calcutta (J. T. A.).—In the Judicial Commission's Court at Karachi, Justice Kennedy and Madgaokar, forming a High Court Bench, discharged an injunction involving an interesting question relating to Jewish and Christian marriage laws.

Abraham Benjamin, the appellant, had been converted to Christianity in early youth, and married Lakshmi, an Indian Christian. Two years ago Benjamin reverted to Judaism and married a Jewish woman and his religion did not recognize a Christian wife. Lakshmi filed a suit for declaration that her marriage held good. Mr. Raymond, Additional Judicial Commissioner, allowed a temporary injunction which the Judge, Mr. C. A. H. Aston, later on confirmed.

Counsel for Benjamin argued that the rights of the Christian wife after the appellant had reverted to Judaism comprised merely the power to apply for a dissolution of marriage, and the issue of an injunction was contemplated only in cases where there was a breach of an obligation. In the present case no such breach was involved.

The High Court, agreeing with counsel, held that there was no authority to issue an injunction in the circumstances of the case and set aside the former orders.

BNAI BRITH WON'T GO TO WORLD CONGRESS

Berlin (J.T.A.)—The Executive Committee of the Bnai Brith does not intend to take part in the proposed Jewish World Congress, according to Professor Ehrmann, Grand President of the Austtian Bnai Brith Lodge, in a statement here.

Professor Ehrmann declares he had inquired of the Bnai Brith executives in America as to their attitude towards the proposed world gathering which is to be called to consider Palestine problems and had received a reply in the negative.

A FEW MINUTES SAVED SAMUEL FROM ATTACK

London (J.T.A.)—A matter of a few minutes saved the Palestine High Commissioner, Sir Herbert Samuel, from being involved in the shooting when Druse bandits attacked and murdered five of his British escort, according to a circumstantial account contained in a letter the "Daily Express" reports it received from a soldier named Grew, a member of the High Commissioner's escort.

Grew states the shooting occurred immediately after the British escort handed over the guardship of Sir Herbert to a relieving French escort.

MINORITIES PLAN SEPARATE UNIVERSITY IN POLAND

Warsaw (J.T.A.)—A committee representing some of the minority nationalities has been organized with a view to establishing a separate university at Lodz. It is proposed that the language of instruction be Polish, Yiddish and German, and the institution serve as an asylum for students belonging to nationalities that are denied entrance in Poland's higher seats of learning.

Liberal Polish circles are evincing much interest in the project, Professor Boduen de Kurtene and Professor Petrazyski having consented to serve on the faculty.

PALESTINE JEWISH COUNCIL RECOGNIZED

Jerusalem (J. T. A.—The Vaad Leumi, or the Jewish Council, will be recognized by the Palestine Government as officially representative of the Jewish population, according to a semi-official report. The rights of the various Jewish communities will also be recognized, according to this report, although it is not known yet whether the recognition will extend to the right of the Jewish communities to tax their constituencies.

DENMARK'S RICHEST JEWISH BANKER DIES IN PRISON.

Berlin (J.T.A.)—Emil Glueckstadt, director of the famous Landsmanns Bank of Copenhagen, was found dead in his cell in the Copenhagen prison Sunday.

Herr Glueckstadt was being held in connection with the sensational trial against the managers of the bank whose crash precipitated a cabinet crisis recently. In consequence of Glueckstadt's death, the reason for which is said to be "unknown," the trial has been interrupted.

The banker's tragic death is as remarkable as the bankruptcy of the Gibraltar-like institution over which he presided as director. He was a Jew and was considered one of the richest men in Europe, the friend of rulers and statesmen.

He participated in many diplomatic missions in behalf of Denmark and was the leading economic expert of the Danish delegation to the Genoa Conference.

BRITISH OFFICER'S ARAB MURDERED CAPTURED, KILLED

Jerusalem (J.T.A.)—The story of the capture and killing of Abdul Kadir, murderer of Lieutenant Swann, British paymaster, has now been made public and throws light on the circumstances which enabled Kadir to evade his searchers for more than a week.

After murdering Swann, Abdul Kadir hid in a cave near the village of Gimzo. He was in hiding there for a week until Saturday last, when he came out of the cave to inquire of the shepherds whether any police are about. He then returned to his cave. The shepherds informed the mukhtar of the village who reported to Captain Miller, Governor of Ramleh.

With a company of British gendarmes and local police, Captain Miller surrounded and bombed the cave, Kadir throwing a bomb which did not explode. Miller then shot Abdul Kadir in the neck, and the Arab police dragged the dying man through Ramleh and Lydd until he expired.

POLLOCK-MYERS

The marriage of Miss Henrietta Myers, daughter of Mr. A. Myers of Ottawa, to Mr. George Pollock, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Pollock of this city was solemnized on Tuesday, June 26, in the Beth Jacob Synagogue, Rabbi J. Berger and the Rev. J. Levinson officiating. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked very beautiful in a gown of white georgette, embroidered with pearls, her veil being of silk net, with crown of pearls and orange blossoms, and also wore a necklace of pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of sweetheart roses and lillies-of-the-valley. Mrs. Max Epstein, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor, and wore a coral georgette dress embroidered with beads and carried a bouquet of American beauty roses. Little Gladys Epstein was flower girl and looked very pretty in pink georgette dress, and carried an old-fashioned nosegay of flowers and roses. Mrs. H. Freiman, aunt of the bride, looked lovely in a gown of black sequin and a corsage bouquet of orchids and roses. Mrs. A. J. Freiman of Ottawa looked charming in a gown of black embroidered georgette and a large picture hat. The synagogue was beautifully decorated with bowers of roses. Mr. Goode played the wedding march. After the ceremony, dinner was served in the vestry rooms of the synagogue, which was beautifully decorated with flowers for the occasion.

The out-of-town guests were Dr. and Mrs. M. A. Pollock, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. L. Pollock, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. D. Teich and Miss Gertrude Teich, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Freiman, Ottawa, Mr. A. Myers, Ottawa, Mrs. Max Fox, Winnipeg, Mrs. Pearl and Miss Etta Epstein, Pasadena, Cal.

Going away, the bride wore a suit of beige poiret twill with hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Pollock left for a short honeymoon, and on their return will reside in Hamilton.

HADASSAH

The card-party given by the Hadassah on Wednesday afternoon was an interesting affair. The weather being warm, the tables were set on the back lawn of the United Hebrew Building, about forty ladies being present. Mrs. A. J. Freiman, Dominion Chairman of Hadassah, addressed the gathering and told of the progress made in the short time by Canadian Hadassah in the various centres, and of the Domestic and Agricultural School which is to be maintained entirely by Canadian Hadassah. A stamp which is being prepared for this purpose was shown to the members, the proceeds of which would be for the School. Mrs. J. Selick, Chairman of the Central Chapter of Toronto, also addressed the gathering. She spoke on the Herzl Memorial day which would be observed on July 4th, and what could be done by the Hadassah in planting trees in Palestine to the memory of the great leader, Theodor Herzl. She told of the intention of the Toronto Chapters who were contemplating the purchasing of a large tract of land and to plant trees there, to be known as the Lillian Freiman Herzl-Wald. Rabbi Berger also addressed the members, speaking on the same subject, and urging the Hamilton Hadassah to arrange a memorial service for the coming week. He regretted he would not be able to be present, but hoped on his return from Montreal he would hear that the service in memory of Herzl had been observed for the first time in Hamilton. After the speaker had finished, an appeal was made by the local chairman, Miss Lillian Golfstein, for the planting of trees to the memory of relatives. Fourteen have responded and many of the members who were not present have advised the Chairman that they will also contribute towards this fund. At the conclusion of the meeting dainty refreshments were served, the hostesses being Mesdames B. Goldblatt, S. Needle, Chas. Levinson, H. Freiman. The Chapter has been notified by the Dominion Chairman to call a large re-organization meeting of Hadassah early in the Fall. This is receiving immediate attention, and it is expected that every Jewish Woman will enroll under the banner of Hadassah. A Junior Chapter is also being contemplated.

40,000 VOTE IN JEWISH CONGRESS ELECTIONS.

New York (J.T.A.)—Approximately 40,000 Jews of New York cast their votes last Sunday, June 24, in the election of delegates to the American Jewish Congress. The elections were also held in a number of other cities from which reports are not yet available.

Those cities which did not hold elections last Sunday will continue the work throughout the summer and by the time the American Jewish Congress convenes October 14th it is expected that every city will have elected its representative.

Despite the intense heat which prevailed in the city last Sunday, there was a lively interest exhibited in the elections. The campaign in Brownsville was particularly vigorous and the contest among the candidates was very keen.

The ballots are now being counted in the respective districts of the city and the result will be announced next week.

QUESTIONS "SLOW PROGRESS" OF RUTENBERG SCHEME
Hussein Treaty Involves No Change in Palestine Policy.

London (J.T.A.)—The government is not aware of the "slow progress" of the Rutenberg concession for the electrification of Palestine and does not contemplate withdrawing the concession, Mr. Ormsby Gore of the Colonial office declared in the House of Commons, in reply to a question by Mr. Becker. The latter has asked the same question on June 18 and received substantially the same reply.

Sir Robert Hamilton asked of whom the Arab Congress now meeting in Jaffa consists, by whom it was summoned, and who is presiding over it. Mr. Gore replied the Government has received no official information, adding that the House was of course aware that the Arab Congress is not in any sense an official body. He added that he "understood" that Mussa Kazim Pasha was the presiding officer.

Colonel Wedgewood asked the Premier to state if and how far does the treaty now being negotiated with King Hussein affect Palestine, and whether it involves any modification of Britain's obligations under the Palestine Mandate, and whether recognition by King Hussein of Great Britain's special position in Mesopotamia, Transjordania and Palestine includes his recognition of the government's international obligations regarding the Jewish National Homeland.

In a written statement Mr. MacNeil replied for the Premier that the negotiations with King Hussein were still in progress and he was unable to say what the precise form of the treaty, if concluded, may ultimately take. He was assured, he said, that it will not, however, involve any modification of the obligations into which the Government had entered under the Palestine Mandate.

PROPOSE MILLION DOLLAR JEWISH COLONY IN CRIMEA

Vienna (J.T.A.)—The foundation in Crimea of a series of colonies for Jewish agriculturists is contemplated by the Joint Distribution Committee and the Jewish Colonization Association, in accordance with the plans the former received from Dr. Bernard Rosen, director in Russia of the J.D.C.'s reconstruction activities.

It is learned that Dr. Rosen submitted his plan to the Conference of J.D.C. workers held here recently under the presidency of Felix M. Warburg. The J.D.C. representatives agreed in principle to the proposal, stipulating, however, that the $1,000,000 the undertaking would require should come out of the moneys allocated for Jewish reconstruc-in Europe, and that the Jewish Colonial Association be asked to assume part of the activities now carried out by the J.D.C.

Dr. Ungar, the ICA representative, gave his hearty approval of the plan, proceeding to Paris with a view to having it sanctioned by the Association's heads.

Assurances were given that the Soviet Government is favorably disposed toward the plan.

DEPUTY SANDOR UNRECONCILED AFTER DUEL WITH BESNARD

Budapest (J.T.A.)—Deputies Sandor and Besnard fought a duel last Saturday both receiving slight wounds. They parted unreconciled.

Deputy Sandor, who is the only Jewish member of the Hungarian Assembly, was challenged by M. Besnard, known as an anti-Semite, for slighting remarks that M. Sandor was alleged to have made regarding the Awakening Magyars.

HAKENKREUZLER BEAT JEWISH COMMERZIENRAT

Munich (J.T.A.)—The President of the Chamber of Commerce in Munich, Herr Fraenkel, was attacked by a gang displaying the Swastika badge as he was traveling with his son in a trolley car. Herr Fraenkel, who is also a Commerzienrat, was left unconscious by his assailants.

JEWS MAY SHARE IN RUSSIAN LAND GRANTS

New York (J.T.A.)—Jews may now share in the distribution of land in Russia, according to advices received by the Idgescom here.

The regulations of 1920 regarding the parcelling of the agricultural lands provided that only those citizens who were entitled to own land before 1917 were entitled to share in its redistribution. This automatically prevented the Jews from sharing in the distribution as no Jews were permitted to own land under the Czar.

This regulation has now been done away with by the Soviet government and Jews may share with others in the land grants.

GERER RABBI LIFTS RAILWAY BAN

Warsaw (J.T.A.).—The strike against the railways declared by the Chasidic followers of the Gerer Rabbi, of Gera Kalwaria, has been called off, but Rabbi having received assurances that the Chasidim will no longer be molested. The ban on the use of the railways was pronounced by the Rabbi during the Shabuoth holiday when Chasidim from all parts of Poland complained of the ill-treatment to which they were subjected by railway officials. The Chasidim returned by boat. Railway authorities subsequently appealed to the Rabbi to sanction railway travel, promising to dismiss the stationmaster who permitted his subordinates to annoy the passengers and guaranteeing courteous treatment for the Jews in the future. As a further inducement the railways reduced the fares, charging an amount equal to that asked by the steamers.

SOVIET'S SENTENCE, RELEASE RABBIS

Warsaw (J.T.A.).—Rabbis Schneerson and Perlov, sentenced at Gomel to six months' hard labor following their conviction for performing rabbinical functions which the court held to be properly the jurisdiction of the state, have had their sentences annulled, owing to their advanced age. The court sentencing the two aged rabbis was to have tried all the Jewish ecclesiastical dignitaries of the Gomel province for giving advice and settling cases in Jewish arbitration courts known as the "Beth Din." Rabbi Barashansky, who had previously served a seven months' sentence, was a witness at the trial and testified that he and the rabbis arraigned had performed these functions, which are within the province of the orthodox rabbi.

PRAISE BRITISH JEWS' PART IN POLITICS, LETTERS AND SHAKESPEAREAN STUDIES

New York (J.T.A.).—The achievements of Jews in British politics, in "pure literature" and particularly in Shakespearean studies, are praised in an editorial in the Evening Post to-day. The editorial is headed "Israel Gollancz" and is, in part, as follows:

"It was perhaps fitting that the testimonial to Shakespeare's universality on the tercentenary of his death in 1916, "The Book of Homage to Shakespeare," with contributions from almost every race, should have been edited by the eminent Jewish scholar now visiting us, Israel Gollancz. It is certainly worthy of note that the only two living Englishmen knighted for their Shakespearean studies, Gollancz and Sir Sidney Lee, are Jews.

"Every one is familiar with the achievements of Jews in British politics, from the Herschels and Disraeli to Lord Reading. The names of some Jews eminent in pure literature, such as the dramatist Sutro and Israel Zangwill, are well known. But in England, as in this country, learning has particularly profited by their activity. There are no English theologians more esteemed than C. J. G. Montefiore, the head of the University College of Southampton, or Israel Abrahams of Cambridge University."

GERMANS IN PALESTINE INVOKE JEWISH RULE

Jerusalem (J.T.A.).—Soronna, the German colony outside Jaffa, founded by the Templars in the early '60's, has, by its own request, been included in the jurisdiction of the municipality of Tel-Aviv, the self-contained Jewish community.

Soronna's choice lay between Jewish Tel-Aviv and the municipality of Jaffa, which is predominantly Arab, and the Germans chose the former.
